2009 NEW MEXICO YOGA TEACHERS CONFERENCE
“The Gift of Teaching”
Featuring Kirtan with Wah!

March 27 – 29, 2009

We are excited to announce the second annual New Mexico Yoga Teachers Conference (NMYTC) that will take place the weekend of March 27 – 29, 2009 at the Mothership Yoga Lounge in Truth or Consequences.

We are especially thrilled to announce the weekend kick-off Kirtan with Wah!, an incredible singer/musician who combines reggae, Hindu chanting and pop to create a unique mix of spiritual world music. As described by Australian Yoga Life magazine, "Wah! just might be a devi. She sings with the voice of a goddess, reflecting the deep devotion and reverence of a seasoned bhakta." Wah! toured with Krishna Das for three years and has performed at Omega Institute, Kripalu Center, Yoga Journal Conference and the UK Yoga Show. (More information about Wah! can be found at <http://www.wahmusic.com/>.)

This year's NMYTC theme is "The Gift of Teaching". Through discussions, meditation practices and yoga classes we will explore what it means to take on the responsibility of teaching this powerful, ancient practice. What are the greatest rewards of being a yoga teacher? What are the challenges? If you are considering applying to teach a class at the Conference, we invite you to interpret this theme creatively and from the heart.

We promise to do our very best to accommodate all of you who are interested in teaching. However, depending on the response, we cannot guarantee that we can fit everybody in. IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN TEACHING A CLASS YOU MUST REGISTER AND APPLY BY FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 2009 SO THAT WE HAVE TIME TO PUT TOGETHER THE CONFERENCE PROGRAM!! Please see the following registration form and application for details on how to submit your proposed class description.

The NMYTC is an opportunity for yoga enthusiasts from around the state to come together, share knowledge, reinvigorate our teaching and yoga practices, and meet new people. We look forward to welcoming those of you who have never been here, and welcoming back those who are becoming familiar faces at the Mothership. Yoga teachers and advanced practitioners are invited to attend. We hope you will join us for 3 days of chanting, yoga, meditation, discussions and soaking in the magical hot mineral springs of Truth or Consequences. If you have any questions please call Shayna Turner at 575-894-3462 or email shayna@mothershipyogalounge.com.

Namaste and hope to see you there!!
Shayna & Glenn Turner

Schedule

The NMYTC will begin at 7:30 pm on Friday, March 27 with Kirtan by Wah! and end on Sunday March 29. A detailed schedule will be emailed to all participants a few weeks prior to the Conference.

Accommodations

There are several comfortable, charming and affordable places to stay in Truth or Consequences. We especially recommend those hotels that include soaks in the natural hot mineral springs (see list below). These accommodations fill up on the weekends so be sure to make your reservations ASAP!! APPLICATION TO TEACH (Must be submitted by Friday, February 13, 2009)

Thank you for your interest in teaching at this year’s New Mexico Yoga Teachers Conference! This event would not be possible without people like you who are willing to share your love of yoga with others. Please answer the questions below and send in this page along with your registration form.

Remember this year’s theme is “The Gift of Teaching”. We invite you to interpret this however you would like – there are no rules. Asana, pranayama, chanting, and/or meditation classes are welcome. Most of all, we encourage you to offer something authentic to your teaching practice.

We will notify you of the final schedule by Friday, February 27. Again, we promise to do our very best to accommodate all of those who are interested in teaching; however, depending on the response, we cannot guarantee that we can fit everybody in.

Why do you want to teach at the New Mexico Yoga Teachers Conference?

Please briefly describe the class you would like to teach.

Do you have liability insurance? _____ Through which company? _____
